Preface

The following report contains data on the U.S.-flag privately-owned oceangoing merchant fleet of 10,000 deadweight (DWT) or greater. The fleet is expressed in terms of number of vessels and DWT for the following vessel types: tankers, roll-on/roll-off, general cargo, containership and dry bulk (See Notes for definitions). The report also contains data on the Jones Act segment of the U.S.-flag fleet. Jones Act vessels are those that are owned by U.S. citizens, registered under U.S. laws (U.S.-flag) and built or reconstructed (Wrecked Vessels Act) in U.S. shipyards.

Comments and recommendations as to content and format of the report can be made at data.marad@marad.dot.gov. In addition, to learn more about the Maritime Administration or the maritime industry, visit the agency's website at www.marad.dot.gov.

Highlights

- As of year-end 2005 the U.S.-flag oceangoing fleet included 195 vessels (9.1 million DWT). Of this, 105 vessels (5.4 million DWT) were Jones Act vessels eligible for domestic trades (Figures H-1 - H-4, Table H-1).
- From 2001 to 2005, the U.S.-flag privately-owned oceangoing merchant fleet declined by 26 vessels (1.0 million DWT). The Jones Act fleet declined by 27 vessels (1.0 million DWT), while the non-Jones Act fleet (foreign trade vessels) increased by 1 vessel.
- As of year-end 2005, 46 percent of the U.S.-flag fleet (DWT) was older than 20 years, (Figures H-5 - H-8, Table H-2). For the Jones Act segment, 59 percent of the fleet was older than 20 years.
- As of year-end 2005, there were thirteen U.S.-flag oceangoing vessels on order, accounting for 9 percent of the existing fleet (DWT) (Table S-2).
